

ALPHA ACADEMIC APPEALS CAMPUS AMBASSADOR

Job Description

Are you looking to improve your CV?

Do you want an opportunity to work alongside a team of barristers?

Alpha Academic Appeals represents students in their university appeals and complaints, ranging from academic appeals to disciplinary hearings. Our team of barristers, containing experts in education, criminal, landlord and tenant, and personal injury law, has a wealth of experience and knowledge in university matters.

We are looking for an ambitious and approachable student to work as an Alpha Academic Appeals Campus Ambassador for their university.

This is a brand new opportunity, paying £10/hour.

What the role involves

- Thinking of innovative ways to raise the profile of Alpha Academic Appeals on campus.
- Providing advice and support to students wanting to make an academic appeal or needing help with a university matter.
- Building and developing relationships with the university community, student union, student support staff and faculty members.
- Working alongside a team of skilled and experienced barristers.

What qualities should you have?

Highly motivated

The role offers a great amount of independence and responsibility. You will need to design your own campaigns and initiatives that engage students and inform them about Alpha Academic Appeals' services.

Strong organisational skills

There are many opportunities on campus to raise Alpha Academic Appeals profile. It's important that you embrace the opportunities to make students aware of our fantastic services.

Excellent communication and interpersonal skills

You need to be comfortable interacting with students, university staff and barristers.

Social media skills

You should be able to use social media to help spread the word about Alpha Academic Appeals and the work our barristers do.

How to apply

Simply send your CV along with a short description of how you intend to promote Alpha Academic Appeals at your institution.

Please send your CV and short statement to our paralegal, Joshua Ellis, at ellisjoshua96@gmail.com

What will happen next

If you are shortlisted, you will be invited for a remote interview.

When does it start?

Immediately.
